Wall Street Trader as Portfolio Manager & Contact

Your account mirrors every trade made by our expert portfolio manager — including entries, exits, stop losses, and adjustments. We use Duplikium to automate the process, so your portfolio stays fully managed at all times. Monthly sync fee: $19 via Duplikium.

➡ Our excellent customer support will set up all copy trading settings together with you.

Comprehensive risk management

Risk management is central to long-term success. Our system uses multiple layers of protection to minimize drawdowns and maximize stability. Your portfolio is monitored across all market phases — so you can sleep easy, even in volatile times.

24-hour monitoring of your account

Markets move around the clock, and so do we. Our team tracks your portfolio 24/5, covering U.S., European, and Asian sessions. Any key news or price shifts — we're on it. Your account stays protected, no matter the time zone.

Telegram Channel #1: All Trades as formatted signals Click

Every trade made is shared in this channel as a clear, structured signal. You'll get precise entries, exits, and modifications, so you always know what action is being taken — in real time. This allows you to follow along or mirror the trades even without full account management. A clean and fast way to stay synced.

Telegram Channel #2: Signal Charts & Technical Analysis Click

Alongside each trade signal, we provide charts that visualize the setup, plus a quick breakdown of why we took the trade. Learn as you go by seeing the strategy behind the decisions. This helps both beginners and experienced traders gain confidence and market insight.

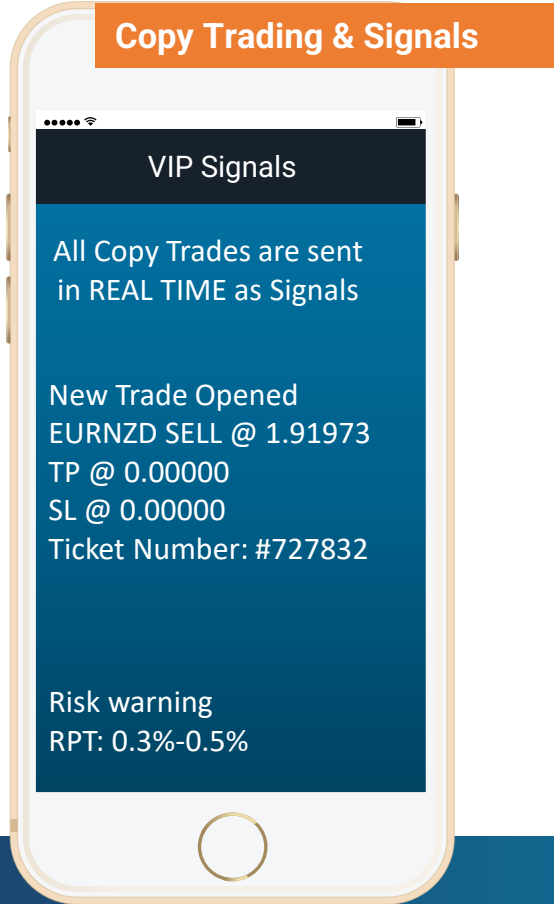

Telegram Channel #3: Wall Street Research & Audios Click

Get daily Wall Street market rundowns, voice notes, and macro-overviews directly from our analysts. These updates help you understand current conditions, upcoming events, and how we plan to position ourselves. All sent via short-form audio and written commentary — easy to follow, even on the go.

Our clients say it Best

“Real Wall Street insight — now working for me!”

I've followed traders before, but this is on another level. My account is actually managed by a real Wall Street pro — not just signals, but full execution. I've been seeing steady gains (1–2% monthly so far), and the real-time explanations and audio updates make it all feel transparent and educational. It's like having a private mentor + fund manager in one.

“I sleep peacefully knowing my portfolio is watched 24/5.”

Markets never stop — and neither does this program. I've never felt this secure with my capital. Between risk control, constant monitoring, and the fact that I can adjust my own risk, I feel in control without having to micro-manage. Add to that the professional-level trade breakdowns and Wall Street research — and it's just a no-brainer.

“Low stress, consistent gains, and real mentorship.”

I started with caution, but the results speak for themselves. A steady 1–3% monthly return is great — but what really impressed me is the educational value. I get voice memos with market insights, professional-grade research, and I've even adjusted my risk profile with guidance. It's rare to find someone who manages your money and teaches you how it's done.

“This isn't copy trading — it's elite portfolio management.”

Most copy trading is fire-and-forget. This is the opposite. Every trade is backed by logic, explained clearly, and backed with a chart. I've learned more in 2 months than in 2 years on my own. Plus, having direct mentorship from someone who actually worked on Wall Street? Priceless.
